POETRY FOR THE PEOPLE—
A RELEASE PARTY/POETRY READING

FEATURED READERS

RACHEL BARTON

Rachel Barton grew up in the woods of northern Indiana which has greatly influenced her poetry and provided her a sense of connection to the planet. Her collection This is the Lightness, was just released from The Poetry Box 2022. Currently, Barton edits her own Willawaw Journal, an online journal for poetry and art. She also serves as associate editor for Cloudbank Magazine. Her recent or forthcoming publications include SALT, The Poeming Pidgeon, Sleet, and Main Street Rag. For more information, go to:

LAURA LEHEW

Laura LeHew grew up in the Midwest where she spent her childhood summers playing Man from U.NC.L.E. and chasing fireflies. Her newest collections are, Let Widows Be Widows (Unsolicited Press, 2022) and Dear John—, (The Poetry Box, 2021). Laura owns and edits Uttered Chaos, a small press which publishes books of poetry by NW writers. In 2021 she received the Oregon Poetry Association's (OPA) Patricia Ruth Banta Award. Laura spent the pandemic taking photos of rivers and roses.
